

Proceedings of the Edinburgh Mathematical Society

Authors are encouraged to submit their papers electronically and in PDF format to pems@icms.org.uk, if possible suggesting an appropriate Subject Editor from this page. We will accept other formats such as TeX/LaTeX, dvi and postscript, if necessary.

The submission of a paper implies the author's assurance that it has not been copyrighted, published, or submitted for publication elsewhere.

Each manuscript should contain a short abstract of no more than 200 words and also a primary classification number from the American Mathematical Society's 2010 Mathematics Subject Classification Scheme. The style and arrangement of the paper should conform to current practice in the Proceedings. A LaTeX class file can be found here (zip file download).

Once an article has reached its final form and is accepted for publication, authors will be asked to supply a TeX/LaTeX file for the paper. This should be a single file, with any relevant macros included in the preamble. Figures in PostScript form are also welcome, and should be submitted at the same time as the TeX file for the paper (in zipped format if appropriate).

When a paper has been accepted for publication, the corresponding author will be able to choose to publish the paper under a regular publication agreement (Green Open Access compliant) or under a fully Gold Open Access agreement. If authors choose to publish a paper as a Green or subscription publication, they will need to sign the Journal's standard transfer of copyright form. Under the conditions detailed on such form, when an article is accepted, its authors are free to post their version of the Accepted Manuscript on a personal web page, departmental web page, institutional repository or non-commercial/subject repository no less than 6 months after the publication date. As such, Proceedings of the Edinburgh Mathematical Society is compliant with the Open Access mandates of the vast majority of academic institutions and funding sources. For more information on our Green Open Access policy please visit here.

If authors choose to publish a paper under a fully Gold Open Access agreement, they will be asked to sign the Open Access form which licences the Edinburgh Mathematical Society to the exclusive right to publish the contribution in PEMS under a creative commons licence. Upon payment of a one-off Article Processing Charge of £1870/US$2980, the final published Version of Record shall be made freely available to all in perpetuity, and will be published under a CC-BY (default), CC-BY-NC-SA or CC-BY-NC-ND agreement under the author's choosing. For more details, please see our hybrid Open Access FAQs.

One proof is supplied, which should be corrected and returned promptly. Excessive corrections may be charged to authors. Authors will receive a pdf of the final article.
